with little trouble and time. Accordingly I went about to find out the most retired parts of the island; , and I pitched upon one that was as private Indeed as my heart could wish for. It was a little damp piece of ground. In the middle of the thick woods where I almost lost myself once before endeavouring to come back that way from the eastern part of the island. Here I found a clean piece of land., near three acres, so surrounded with woods that it was almost an enclosure by nature; at least It did not want near so much labour to make It so as the others I had worked so hard at,

I Immediately went to work with this piece of ground,, and in less than a month's time I had so fenced it round that my flock, or herd, call it what you please, were well enough secured on it. So, without any further delay, I:removed ten young she-goats and'two he-goats to this piece. .And when theyt wefe there • I continued to perfect. the fence till I had made it quite secure, which, however, Pdid at more leisure.

After I had thus secured one part of my little living stock, I went about the whole island searching for another private place to make ,such another deposit, when, wandering
